

Report on Guest Lecture by Adv. Richard E. Samdperil on "Introduction to IRAC"

On Thursday, August 8, 2024, Symbiosis Law School, Pune, hosted a guest lecture on the topic "Introduction to IRAC," delivered by Adv. Richard E. Samdperil. The session, held from 3:00 PM to 4:00 PM in offline mode at the PDCLE Hall, was attended by over 70 students who were eager to gain a deeper understanding of the IRAC method, a key approach used in legal analysis.

The lecture was designed to provide students with a comprehensive introduction to the IRAC framework, which stands for Issue, Rule, Application, and Conclusion. Adv. Samdperil, a seasoned legal professional, began by explaining the significance of IRAC as a structured method for solving legal problems and analyzing case law. He emphasized that IRAC helps students and practitioners break down complex legal issues into manageable components, promoting clarity and precision in legal writing and reasoning.

Adv. Samdperil began with the first component of IRAC—Issue—explaining how to identify the central legal question in a case or problem. He provided students with practical tips on formulating clear and concise issues that are relevant to the case at hand. He then moved to the second component—Rule—discussing the importance of identifying the relevant legal principles, statutes, or case law that govern the issue.

The Application section was the focal point of the lecture, where Adv. Samdperil provided students with guidance on how to apply the identified rule to the facts of the case. He discussed various methods of analysis, including analogies and distinguishing facts from case law, to make a compelling argument. Finally, the Conclusion component was addressed, where students were taught how to succinctly summarize their findings and present a logical resolution to the issue.

Throughout the session, Adv. Samdperil used real-world examples and case studies to illustrate the application of the IRAC method, making the concepts easier to understand. The lecture concluded with a brief Q&A session, where students actively engaged with Adv. Samdperil, seeking clarification on various aspects of the method.

Overall, the guest lecture was a valuable learning experience, providing students with essential skills for legal analysis and enhancing their ability to approach legal problems methodically.
